Whele cannot be here discussed.

We believe two hospitals can as well be sustained in Cleveland as two orphan asylums, and without antagonism of feeling. To how many Protestants is Bishop Rappe indebted for contributions in aid of his anndebted for contributions in faid of his an-nual Orphans' Fair? The same hearty good will would be manifested by those same Protestants in contributing to any effort he night make for the support of St. Vincent's Results. The charities of the Church of Rome ar

The charities of the Church of Rome are world-renowned, but this fact does not excuse Protestants from like endeavors to ameliorate the wretchedness at their doors. The effect of the Romanists' example should be Christian emulation of good works.

If Protestants are willing to make St. Vincent's a free institution, so far as their liberal benefactions can avail to open its doors, then God speed the work! But at this propitions time for the establishment of a great charity there may be some among us who would prefer to cast their offerings ato another treasury.

to another treasury.

The Orphan Asylum is no longer entirely dependent on charity. It is partly endowed. The Aid Society has had its day of useful-ness, but the alarm of war is over and that no longer appeals to public sympathy. The Soldiers Home, too, is transferred to the State Institution at Columbus. What then is to take the place of these enterprises? Shall we sit down and fold our hands, our fork accomplished, or shall we manifest r gratitude to that God who has delivered on from unexampled perils, by new

Let then the Protestant Hospital be no anger a fiction. Build one with doors wide nough for all, and prove to a skeptical world the ability of P rotestants to carry out this great work in a true catholic spirit, and in such a manner that the city can point to it as one of her noblest institutions.

COURTING IN STREET CARS.—Everything i good in is season, saith the Preacher; all things are good in their time and order, say the Stoics, but all the wit of the world, and all the humor and fun of life come from the II-timing and the false relations of things, whether the scene be real or conceived. What is commonly called "courting," or keening company," or "sparking," is a good thing in its place, a very sweet thing, we suppose, but we submit that a street-car, or a corner, or a concert-room is hardly the or a corner, or a concert-room is hardly the place for confiding the tender sentiments, and for the "manufacture" of the enchantment which makes each party the prisoner of the other. Any opan exhibition of this process is simply disgusting, notwithstanding the hat Austin S. Taylor, Esq., of Huntington, is simply disgusting, notwithstanding the assertion goes counter to the accepted dogma a family reunion, and died suddenly, in the prime of an active life, regretted by all who knew him.

Hoffman also created a sensation by his facile and expressive rendering of his facile and expressive rendering of his facile and expressive rendering of his brilliant compositions and selections. about the ticket office. It took so long to East. This policy, which should have be gun long ago, is still not too late to do good, and ought to be generally adopted. The stringency in currency of course tends to weaken exchange, some of the bank today refusing to buy better than 1 discount. The general rates, however, were a off to par buying and par to # premium selling. The supply of exchange is not large, and the demand quite liberal. Gold during the past week has worked steadily downward, and continues weak, influenced by the heavy foreign orders for our national and leading railway stocks, which do away with the necessity of specie ship ments for the present, thus promising an ncrease of cash gold at home. The specie reserve of the New York banks is now $13,- 146g last Seturday. Railway stocks have ruled irregular and unsettled during the week, but the advantage of the market has been with the bulls the speculation being against them in only that the place of crossing proposed in the resolutions of the City Council of the 3d inst., from one to two hundred feet north of Front street, (if no pier is constructed in the middle of the river,) is more consistent in a rate. The disperse over last week's closing rates. The shipments of five-twenties to Europe during the week are estimated a over $2,000,000. The old issue of five-twen ties is scarce.

Mercantile circles during the week have been unsettled. In this market business has been only moderate, but prices have been well maintained, and close to day without trade demand for Flour is fair, and the stock ontinues light. City millers are still behind their orders. Wheat is irregular, but .266 firm, choice grades being scarce. The demand is light. Corn and Outs are inactive and nominal.
